100-year celebrations set to bloom at church

CHADSMOOR Methodist Church is set to bloom this weekend as it celebrates its centenary celebrations with a flower festival and historical book launch.

Flower clubs from across Cannock will turn out for the event, starting tomorrow (Friday) and continues throughout the weekend.
Chadsmoor Tapestry Group and the art and craft group will also make a special appearance and show off their skills.
The free three-day festival will open with the launch of an illustrated history book of the church, a childled Chadsmoor Methodist Church – Its Past and Its People, which looks back over the past 100 years. County council.

Help for jobless to return to work

JOBLESS people in Cannock can attend a free council work club to gain extra support in getting off the unemployment line.

Cannock Chase Council will host the club every fortnight on a Friday starting tomorrow (July 1) at the council offices on Beecroft Road. Sessions will be run in three one-hour slots between 10am and 1pm.

The scheme is being delivered in partnership with South Staffordshire College and JobCentre Plus and will provide computer facilities with internet access to search for jobs and write a CV and any covering letters. Staff will also offer informal guidance and useful tips in areas such as interview preparation and completing online job application forms.

Councillor Gordon Alcott, leader of economic development and planning, said: "The Council recognises how difficult it can be to find work."

CONCERNS have been raised that the expansion of a Cannock petrol station will cause "traffic chaos" down a busy A road. Plans to refurbish a Shell petrol station on the Longford Island include the demo-lition and reconstruction of the current

During his two-hour visit to the Gorsemoor Road school Mr Burley also gave out House of Commons chocolate coins and certificates as prizes for waste recycling competition.

He was given a tour of the building by governors and said: "It really is a very fine school. The new extension includes a classroom which can accommodate 30 pupils, which is needed."

"We're thinking about the long-term problems it's going to create – we struggle to get into our gate as it is."

In a letter to Cannock Chase Council Graham Small, of Watling Street-based Global Glass & Windows, said the changes would be unacceptable.

Volume

"We have had an insight in the volume of trucks using the service station which gives rise for concern which daily blocks the road and causes problems with traffic coming off Longford Island," he said. "The queues would be more horrendous on the A5 than they presently are. Are Highways not aware of this?" he asked.

Cannock Chase Council said a decision date on whether the application would be approved had not yet been confirmed.

A council spokesman said: "Cannock Chase Council has received two objections about this planning amplication.

call on welfare system

CANNOCK Chase MP Aidan Burley has urged the Government to step up its efforts to reform the broken welfare

Mr Burley last week cited the example of a man who had received so much in benefits he was able to set up his own illegal loans company.

"It feels really great to know that we have such fantastic public support for what we're doing and I'd like to thank everyone who voted for us."

This year's awards are supported by I'V presenter Julia Bradbury. She said: "It's brilliant to see such an inspiring range of Lottery-funded projects – large and small-make it through to final stage of The National Lottery Awards."

There are seven categories in the awards: arts, sport, heritage, health, environment, education and charity.

Winning projects will get a £2,000 cash prize. able to set up his own illegal loans company.
Figures released by the Department for Work and Pensions showed that welfare spending increased by 45 per cent in real terms in the 10 years to 2009-2010.
Last year £192 billion was spent on welfare payments, compared to £35bn on defence, £50bn on education, and £98bn on health.
Prime Minister David Cameron agreed that people wanted the Government to fix the welfare system and made it clear that anybody who can work and is offered a job shouldn't be allowed to live a life on benefits.
He also gave assurances that support will still be there for people who genuinely need help.
Mr Burley later said: "It was clear from speaking to people on the doorstep in Cannock Chase both before and after the election that they want us to reform

The treasure trove is the largest hoard of Anglo-Saxon gold and silver metalwork yet ever found, with nearly 4,000 items. It was discovered in a field belonging to farmer Fred Johnson in Hammerwich in July, 2009 by metal detecting earthwiset Tarry Harbeit Tarry Harbeit Budget enthusiast Terry Herbert.

Throughout July, the public will get the chance to lay their eyes—but not their hands – on the items in Stafford, Lichfield and Tamworth. All of the valuables will be placed in secure casings.

"All the Hoard items will be displayed in high quality, secure cases, which have to meet high standards for insurance purposes.

"We would not want to go into detail about specific security details, however, we —and others — have met the very high standards set out to ensure we can host the hoard. In addition, we have been planning this for sometime so we had a built in budget to pay for security." Stafford security firm Mayflower Control Ltd has been appointed to guard the Hoard treasure at the Shire Hall Gallery from July 2 to 24. The Revd Dr Pete Wilcox, Canon Chancellor, declined to

Sponsored walk aids little brother

A CARING sister organised a sponsored walk in aid of the Down's Syndrome Association.

Gemma Parrish organised the walk as her brother Ryan suffers from the disorder and the charity does a lot to help him.

The 16-year-old from Benion Road, Chadsmoor, hopes to work in child care after leaving Norton Canes High School, and roped her family and friends into taking part in last Sunday's event (June 26).

The family – including her mother, stepfather and little sister – have raised £60 in sponsor ship, while Gemma was hoping to collect more than £200 in total from the mile-long route at Birches Bridge.

She said: Thad to sort out risk assessment and surface runs from 9am until 1 pm every Saturday until the end of July.

'Unfair' parking fees for disabled dropped

COUNCILLORS have dropped plans to make disabled motorists across Cannock pay to use councilowned car parks, branding the proposals "scandalous and unfair". The proposals came from the previous Lib Dem administration but was unanimously rejected at a meeting of the new Labour-led cabinet last week – a move welcomed by disability campaigners.

The scheme would have lost money in its own car parks. However, a move welcomed by disability campaigners.

comed by disability campaigners.
The scheme would have lost money in its first two years because of the cost of changing the authority's 20 pay and display machines but it was expected to save around £54,000 annually in the long run.
However Labour council leader George

The council has always allowed blue badge holders to park for an unlimited period on its own car parks. However, under the Lib Dems it had been considering removing the privilege.

Adjusting the authority's pay and display machines would have cost around £129,000 but the change-over would have paid for itself by 2013.

Councillor Gordon Alcott said: "Many disabled people are currently suffering the loss of up to £100 a year in benefits – this would have been yet another burden."

Councillors also agreed to impose parking charges on themselves – but decided against making council employees do the same for the time being.

The move, due to come in on August 1, will save the authority just £1,300 as opposed to £25,300 if civic centre employees were also brought in on the scheme.

But Councillor Chris Mitchell, culture and sport leader, said staff were under enough financial pressure.

"They are already subject to wage freezes and high utility bills without adding another burden," she said.

Cabinet members argue that the potential economic benefits to the district depend on an upgrade of the Chase Line.

They supported HS2 on the condition that improvements were made – including electrification of the line, reduced journey times and an improved frequency of four trains per hour. Gordon Alcott, cabinet member for economic development and planning, said: "I welcome HS2 and the long-term benefits it will bring, and it is vital that Cannock Chase district is able to share in this economic growth.

Payments to the EU keep fat cats in jobs

I WONDER why our MP Aidan Burley is proud to

I WONDER why our MP Aidan Burley is proud to be part of a Government that is creating more poverty in this country by reducing payments to the sick, elderly, unemployed and disabled?

If this Government was to stop wasting billions on wars that do not concern us and stop the massive payment to the EU, which just keeps overpaid fat cats in jobs there would be more money in this country to pay our debts.

Our prime minister is prepared to keep offering extra aid to other countries but not help our own. Now we even have a Tory MP that wants to discriminate against disabled people by asking them to work for less pay than more able bodied people.

Priorities wrong again

IT'S brilliant to read that our MP Aidan Burley is in full support of the introduction of the new National Crime Agency to tackle Britain's spiralling crime. But why? When our prisons are full, 60 per cent of which are foreign criminals living a better life in our Travelodge-style prison than our pensioners, who have done no wrong, can afford. It costs from £35, 00 to keep each prisoner locked up per year. Isn't it time the foreigners who commit crimes are deported at the point of conviction and spend this money on the deserving so that they can eat and heat?

Labour should protect families from onslaught

I AM a Labour member, and I believe the Party should stand firm and support the unions and its members with regard to the forthcoming co-ordinated strikes. The Labour Party know that the wealth gap is widening, and should now announce that they will return to their origin and foundation, and condemn the unfair current round of cuts that is being meted out to the most vulnerable people in our society. However, the Labour Party still seems to be giving some support to a capitalist system that is responsible for the exploitation of the masses in favour of the rich!

The Party is mainly funded by unions and its members. And if Mr Miliband and the Labour Party want union members, workers and the less well off to continue giving their support, they should give their full backing to strike action and make a commitment opposing any form of divisive cuts and privatisation within the public works and NHS. The Tories and Liberals cannot be trusted with the NHS, and against public opinion have already demonstrated their intention to privatise it.

They have also shown their true colours by not ensuring the divisive Government the better.

They do not have a mandate to do They do not have a mandate to do what they are now attempting to do. And the Labour Party should come off the fence and protect ordinary families against the current onslaught.

If they do not it will be at their peril, because they will not be able to depend on the support of workers and union members forever.

Many happy memories

IWAS so pleased to see from your front page report in The Chronicle of June 16 that Peter Atkins had been awarded the MBE for his services to journalism.

In the mid-1970s we lived in Stafford and we were regular readers of the Staffordshire Newsletter when Peter was the editor.

His wife, Penny, ran a Junior Readers' Page to which my daughter regularly contributed stories and a poem. In 1981 upon our return from a trip to New Zealand, when she was 10, she wrote an account of the holiday and she won a

As far as I remember, their daughter attended St Dominic's School in Brewood, where Anna started her school life. The Newsletter also ran a competition, asking for unusual recipes and the sentative from Midelec and we had a photo session for an article in the paper, announcing the winner.

As you can see, we have many happy memories of the Newsletter and of the Atkins family.

I remember meeting Penny at a show where the paper had a display stand, and we had an interesting chat. Thirty years have passed since then, and I was really interested to read your report on the two community heroes in the Queen's Birthday list and to read that Peter Atkins is still around.

own version of an inflated remuneration that they believed they were worth.

Perhaps the electorate of the Cannock Chase District Council should forget that the public toilets were closed by them and that they made a conscious decision not to replace bus shelters but to leave the most vulnerable in society to the elements if they wanted to use public transport.

The debacle that they made of the problems of the Brook Square collapsed culvert whereby they promised quite a lot and achieved virtually nothing.

The mess that was caused by their actions when they closed Pye Green Stadium and promised that the sportsmen and women have any less facilities from its closure, and indeed that they almost lost the money that was made in a 106 agreement with Asda relating to sporting facilities in the Cannock Area. The list of selective amnesia is endless.

As far as the comments made in the letter regarding the Labour/Conservative coalition I comment hell hath no fury as to when two political parties fall out.

this year's carnival. Along with other service clubs Cannock Lions and Cannock Rotary, Soroptimists will help to steward the event.

They will join with Cannock Lions to decorate a float for the procession — the theme is 'Mardi Gras' — and they will have stalls in the town centre. Members of the Soroptimist club will be at the stalls all day. They will be there to answer any questions about the work they do and will be promoting a new venture, Purple Teardrop, which is concerned with the issue of trafficking of women and girls.

They will also be accepting donations of goods for Pathway. Please help if you can — your donation will eer to women and children at their time of greatest need.

It is envisaged that the Soroptimist stand will be in Market Street — club members look forward to greeting you.

A CANNOCK mother who was diagnosed with an aggressive form of breast cancer seven months ago will be guest of honour at a fundraising run at Weston Park.

Penny Stanton will be invited on stage to join in the countdown and set the participants off at the Race for Life on Sunday, July 24.

Mum-of-two Penny, a former police officer, spotted a dent in her right breast last year and following tests at Stafford Hospital, the 35-year-old was stunned to learn she had an aggressive form of breast cancer.

Penny underwent surgery to have her right breast removed in January and had reconstructive work carried out. She began chemotherapy treatment four weeks later and will finish the course at the end of June.

Penny, who is studying an Open University Forensic Psychology course, will take part in Race for Life with her daughters Jessica and Danielle as well as her mum, Vivien Stanton.

Penny said: "I urge any woman who notices a change in their breast to see their GP immediately, I was completely shocked to be told I had the disease and that it was so aggressive."

The SR Race for Life starts at 10.30am. A 10k event is being held the day before.

A BURNTWOOD mother who was diagnosed with breast cancer is urging people to take the fundraising plunge.

Those taking part in the event for Cancer Research UK could end up swiming with celebrities.

Gemma Davis, a keen swimmer, is promoting the money-spinner in which a relay team of celebrities will tackle a 56-mile swim across the Irish Sea.

So far, the team includes singer Ronan Keating, Virgin boss Sir Richard Branson, The Gadget Show host Jason Bradbury and Olympic swimming medallist and cancer survivor Steve Parry.

People can stage their own swimming-related activity or sponsor the celebrities to help raise $1 million.

Strong swimmers like Gemma, who have raised more than $100 by July 15, will be in with the chance to grab one of two public places in the relay challenge team.

One lucky participant will be selected at random, the other place will go to a top fundraiser.

Gemma, a 32-year-old mother-of-three, is staging her own sponsored swim on July 15 at Burntwood Leisure Centre and is aiming to clock up 130 lengths.

Gemma had six months of chemotherapy, followed by eight weeks of radiotherapy. She has to have daily doses of Tamoxifen drugs for the next five years.

She said: "My life was turned upside down.

descend on a Hednesford church this weekend to marvel at a revamped replica of the Lourdes shrine.

A new altar has been added to the cave at Our Lady of Lourdes Church in Uxbridge Street. On Sunday (July 3), around 900 people will make the annual pilgrimage to the church at the reproduction of the French memorial.

People will be able to enjoy a picnic in the grounds ahead of the services led by the Archbishop of Birmingham, the Most Rev Bernard Longley.

Parish priest Father Philip Newbold said the archbishop would dedicate the altar during the service.

Blessed

"This is the biggest event of the year for the church," he said. "The services begin at 3pm with the rosary and there will be a celebration of eucharist at 4pm and procession of blessed sacrement and blessing of the sick."

The event attracts Catholics from all over the West Midlands and as far afield as London.

The church, which opened in 1934, was inspired by the site of pilgrimage for Catholics from all over the world.

In 1858 in a cave near Lourdes, peasant girl Bernadette Soubirous, had a vision of the Virgin Mary, Hednesford's first Catholic priest, Dr Patrick Boyle, made many visits to Lourdes, and decided to build a church in his own parish in its honour.

The style of the building is 13th-century French gothic and was constructed entirely of concrete and then faced with white granite.

enough police on the beat.

One shopkeeper has had three break-ins during the past six weeks and earlier this month two raiders fled with thousands of pounds in cash after assaulting a security guard as he was making a delivery to Barclays Bank.

There are concerns that crime may be on the increase due to the village's closeness to the M6.

be on the increase due to the village's closeness to the M6. County councillor Veronica Downes, who represents Penkridge, said it was not just shops but homes that have had problems with thefts. She said: "Not speaking just for Penkridge, but all of the parishes and surrounding villages they do have con-cerns about the level of policing."

Mark Jasper, who runs Jaspers Village Bakery in Penkridge, has seen his business raided three times in the last six weeks. He said: "Unfortu-nately the police presence is fairly low in Penkridge.

Targets

Ian Marston of Dickens Toa Shoppe said he feared things would get worse with the national Government cuts. He said: "It's a sign of the times and young criminals will pick easy targets." Staffordshire Police spokesman Peter Bate said: "Between April and June 23 there were 132 crime inci-dents, compared to 147 last year, so that is a 10 per cent reduction."

urged to check their old EuroMillions Lottery tickets, as there could be secret millionaire living in the area.

millionaire living in the area.

The National Lottery is on the hunt for the owner of a winning EuroMillions raffle ticket which was bought in the Cannock Chase district.

Every week one lucky UK winner is guaranteed to win £1million from the EuroMillions draw, but the one made on Tuesday, June 7 2011 created 15 UK millionaires.

Three of the £1million prizes have not yet been claimed, including one from a ticket purchased in the area.

For every EuroMillions line played, players automatically receive a EuroMillions Millionaire Raffle selection printed on their ticket. The winning selection on June 7 was MWC424302.

A National Lottery spokesman said: "We're desperate to find this mystery ticket-holder and unite them with their winnings — this amazing prize could really make a huge difference to somebody's life.

town centre as a base for work to improve the area.

The keys for the station were handed over to Cannock Chase Council, police and fire service representatives by Pentalver.

It is located at St Luke's Church car park in Cannock town centre and for the time being will be open every Sunday between 9am and 4pm. The action station will move on to other parts of the district over the coming months as partners work to identify other areas that would most benefit from a clean-up.

other areas that would most benefit from a clean-up.

The action station will be the main meeting point for clean-up operations and for residents' drop-in sessions. The public is encouraged to get involved in community initiatives.

The Community Payback team working in the area will also be based there. They will be clearing up litter, graffiti and dealing with any other environmental issues.

Councillor Janos Toth deputy leader.

Cannock Local Policing Team's Sgt Maurice Annett, who helped set the project up, said the action station was previously sited in Rugeley, where it proved successful. "It allows us to deploy Community Payback teams anywhere across the district and provides a focal point for partners and residents to make a dif-ference locally," he said.

In a 35-year career Ocean has sold 30 million records worldwide, releasing nine studio albums and having six top-10 UK studio albums and having six top-10 UK singles.

Born in Trinidad, Ocean settled in London's East End when he was seven years old and was soon influenced by soul singers such as Otis Reading and Sam Cooke. In 1976 his debut single Love Really Hurts Without You reached number two in the UK singles chart and number 12 in the US, propelling Ocean to worldwide farme.

Two top 20 singles followed; Love on Delivery and Stop Me and then Red Light Spells Danger became a smash in both the UK and the US.

Caribbean Queen, Loverboy and Suddenly were further hits before Ocean reached his peak with the number one single When the Going Gets Tough, the Tough Get Going.

There'll Be Sad Songs (To Make You Cry) and Get Outta My Dreams, Get into My Car both reached number one in America as Ocean became one of the world's biggest stars in the 1980s.

Chubby's act is not quite the Full Monty

Roy 'Chubby' Brown, Prince of Wales Centre MOST people know what to expect from Chubby Brown. And, in that respect, he didn't disappoint. However, that doesn't necessarily mean he was funny with it. True, a few jokes hit the mark, but for me it was when he kept it clean he was at his funniest. He saved the best until last with his Full Monty routine, but someone really ought to tell him really ought to tell him after 43 years in the business that if no one laughs, then it's because a joke isn't funny.

Buzz and the RCB Band kicked off proceedings. The six-piece jazz outfit provided some great musicianship with outfit provided some great musicianship with their covers of the likes of Love Really Hurts Without You, Build Me Up Buttercup and Stevie Wonder's Uptight. Chubby even regaled the 300-plus Prince of Wales crowd with his own musical works – and managed to forget the words to one of his songs.

Months of work pays off as Performing

MONTHS of hard work came to fruition as young performers displayed their talents at a summer concert. The performance was held at the Prince of Wales Centre, in Church Street, Cannock, on Saturday (June 25) and showcased the talents of Cannock Performing Arts Centre's string orchestra, string ensemble, wind band, bill dren's chorus and brass and wind ensembles. CPAC is one of seven performing arts centres run by Staffordshire Performing Arts who offer ensemble opportunities to pupils of all school ages. These activities give pupils the opportunity to perform and develop their skills with other pupils from local schools in weekly rehearsals, pupils from local schools in weekly renearsals, concerts and tours abroad.

Cannock Performing Arts Centre pupils rehearse at Cardinal Griffin RC High School, where some of their concerts also take place. The main shows of the year are the Christmas and summer performances.

WELCOME Homes Limited has a home to view this Saturday (July 2) from 12pm to 4pm.
Plot 22, The Richmond, Highfields Gardens, Hednesford, is located to the rear of 95 High Mount Street.
The site will be closed from Monday, July 4, for six weeks while the adopted road and drainage is constructed within the development.
The development has been created by Welcome Homes through the acquisition of eighteen rear gardens from existing homeowners, the entrance has been formed by demolishing 95 High Mount Street, Hednesford, Staffs, WS12 4BN.
The company has created a unique site layout, which offers an exceptionally quiet and secure area, as the twenty two dwellings are surrounded by the rear gardens of established houses.
The first phase of Highfields Gardens offers an exciting choice of five detached four-bedroom houses, priced

THE West Midlands' leading housebuilder has secured national funding to help First Time Buyers who want to take their first step on the housing ladder.

Barratt West Midlands today announced that hundreds of local households who have previously been priced out of home ownership will be able to take advantage of the Central Government money to buy a property of their own.

The funds are part of a new scheme called FirstBuy which the Chancellor announced in the Budget in March. It is designed to give First Time Buyers a route to home ownership at the lowest possible cost and with the lowest possible deposit.

possible cost and with the lowest possible deposit.
"Hundreds of First Time Buyers in the West Midlands now have the chance to move into a new home with a deposit of as little as £2.998" said Graydon Worthing, sales director at Barratt West Midlands.
"Everyone should be clear that this

"Everyone should be clear that this is a great opportunity to buy a privately owned first home of your own." "Alot of people in the West Midlands will be eligible to take advantage of FirstBuy – any household with a combined income of up to £60,000 qualifies  $\sim$  so I would urge anyone interested to contact us as soon as possible. We have limited availability in this area but we know that demand will be high because thousands of people have already pre-registered their interest on our website."

Under FirstBuy, buyers will be offered a loan of up to 20 per cent of the price of the property, jointly funded by Barratt West Midlands and the Government's Homes and Communities Agency (HCA).

The buyers then have to find the remaining 80 per cent of the price themselves. Up to 75 per cent of this could be a mortgage, leaving a deposit of just 5 per cent.

In practice, that means that anyone buying a two-bedroom house from Barratt West Midlands priced at $114,950 under the scheme would potentially be able to get on the housing ladder with a deposit of as little as $4.598.

Richard Hill, deputy chief executive at the HCA, said: "Thanks to FirstBuy over 10,000 first time buyers will be able to realise the dream of owning their home, while house builders will benefit from an additional source of sales, giving a much-needed boost to the development industry."

Belvoir celebrating again

LOCAL lettings specialist, Belvoir is celebrating once again after scooping major honours in both the 2011 Lettings Agency of the Year Awards and the annual awards scheme run by the British Franchise Association (bfa).

Belvoir, which has an office on Sandford Street, in Lichfield, run by Mike and Angie Allgood, was presented with 'Silver' at the Lettings Agency of the Year Awards, run in association with the Sunday Times and the Times. It is the second consecutive win for the company in this major competition, judged by top industry experts, including 'The Property Ombudsmam. In the bfa Awards, Belvoir was also named 'Brand Builder of the Year', in recognition of the hard work which Mike and Angie, along with other franchisees in the Belvoir Group, have put into refreshing the company's image in the local market place over the past year.

At the 2011 Lettings Agency of the Year awards, Olympic gold medalist, Dame Kelly Holmes, handed over the trophy to Belvoir managing director, Dorian Gonsalves, who said: "Winning such an award for two consecutive years in the Best Lettings Agency Franchise category is testament to the pride, passion and dedication shown by all our franchise owners in delivering consistent and outstanding customer service to their local landlord and tenant clients. # Pestered by those pesky little mites

Whitefly, for instance, are a familiar sigh on ornamental plants and vegetables

Are you having trouble identifying the pests in your garden?
Even BBC Gardeners' Question Time panellists don't always get it right, Hannah Stephenson discovers

SO many of us turn detective at this time of year, trying to identify the pests which have feasted on our flowers or decimated our crops.

But even the experts can get it wrong. Only last week at BBC Gardeners' World Live in Birmingham, the panellists from BBC Radio 4's Gardeners' Question Time told one gardener that gypsy moth was likely to be the culprit behind the webbing which appeared on, and caterpillars which defoliated, his cotoneaster.

However, further investigation revealed it wasn't likely to be the source of the problem, as these insects are so rare in this country.

problem, as these insects are sold accountry.

RHS entomologist Andrew Salisbury reckons it's much more likely to be the hawthorn webber moth, which is much more common in Britain.

The affected parts of the plant are covered in silk webbing produced by the caterpillars so, at first sight, it could be mistaken for the work of spiders.

The only control is to inspect plants for signs of webbing and damage in late spring

The red spider mite is a common problem for gardeners throughout the land and late summer. If the infestation is confined to a few shoots, prune them out. Otherwise, you may need to use an insecticide, such as pyrethrum.

Thankfully, many pest problems are easier to identify. Whitefly, for instance, are a familiar sight on ornamental plants and vegetables.

These white-winged insects suck sap from underneath leaves and the foliage becomes coated with a black sooty mould. Hanging sticky traps among plants and using organic sprays based on vegetable oils or fatty acids can minimise the problem.

Mathem Pierre and Winger and Winger and was properly and the problem.

Matthew Biggs, a panellist Gardeners' Question Time, suggests: "One novel method of removal is to knock the leaves and suck up the whitefly with a vacuum cleaner as they fly up into the air."

Mould

Another common problem is scale insects, the sap-suckers found on the leaves and stems of a range of plants, which hide under protective shells which vary in shape and colour. Again, plants are weakened and 'honeydew' secretions on leaves become affected by a black sooty mould, particularly in damp weather.

To control scale insects on fruit trees and roses, treat them with an environmentally friendly winter wash in early winter. Ornamental plants can be sprayed with organic sprays.

Vine weevil is another scourge of gardeners, eating the roots of plants so that by the time the plants start to wilt, there's no going back.

Adults are about 10mm (1/2in) long, black with pale orange spots. They hide in the dark during the day but move slowly on leaves at night, eating notches in leaf leaves at night, eating notches in leaf margins.

The plump white larvae mainly feed on the roots of containerised plants which simply wilt and die.

In spring and summer, take a torch in the garden to check plants, pick off adult weevils and crush them.

Encourage natural enemies. Vine weevils and their grubs are eaten by a variety of predators such as birds, frogs, toads, shrews, hedgehogs and predatory ground beetles.

A biological control of the larvae is avail-

Apply it in August or early September when the soil temperature is warm enough for the nematode to be effective (5-20C/41-68F) and before the vine weevil grubs have grown large enough to cause serious damage. If your detective skills aren't great and you're struggling to identify the pests attacking your plants, cut off a piece of plant with the offending bug, pop it in a sealed container or bag and take it to your garden centre where staff should be able to help.

A car to get up the nose of insurance brokers

longer-lasting implications for the economy than many forecasters predicted and with no end in sight the difficulties everyone looking for value for money.

When it comes to cars there is another group of individuals who rank a close second in terms of hatred to the bankers - insurance brokers!

I really enjoy the way that they bleat con-stantly about the costs of claims going up, and my all-time favourite complaint is when they moan about the claims farmers who try to get in to manage the claim before they do,

By Sharon Walters

making some money in the process.

Which is interesting, because that is what they used to do until some bright spark thought they could make money from it as well.

well.

The upshot of all this posturing from the insurance companies is that the idea of a car rated purely on the individual and the car has long gone, now replaced by a computer that looks as the car, the postcode and other factors with the personal touch almost totally absent.

you happen to

stally absent.
The result is the massive growth of online insurance websites trying to get you the cheapest price.
So what has his got to do with the Corsa I had on test? Well, if be between the ages of 17 and 24 and wanting to insure a car in your own name, then finding a price which doesn't result in selling a part of your anatomy is pretty difficult. If you then further complicate it by personalising the car in any way, you have had it. "The computer says no!" will be a common response.

However, the team at Vauxhall has taken a different approach and produced a range of vehicles that wouldn't be driven by your parents and stand out from the crowd – without the performance engines that make insurance hideously expensive.

At first glance little seems to have

At Irist glance little seems to have changed from the previous model but the front has been altered which gives it a more purposeful look. I especially like the headlights and the lower side grilles which add to the overall sporty feel. The car came fitted with 17-inch black alloys, adding further to the overall image as a sporty hatchback.

Finally, at the rear the hatch-mounted spoiler finishes off the car perfectly and judging by the amount of looks the car garnered it is definitely "job done" in the styling nered it is definitely job don't.

The Corsa comes with four doors which did not make the car feel overly long but did mean that it was a true four-seater. The rear seats are usable for three adults and while passengers over six feet may find it a little cramped most will have no complaint. The front seats are bucket-type and do their job very well, supporting in all the right places without being so restrictive that long distances become a pain, well, in the backside! The pedals are fitted with sports covers and look very smart and purposeful and the dashboard is easy to read and adds once again to the sporting feel. The only thing I didn't like was the red ring which surrounds the air vents. Carbon fibre covers would look less of an afterthought.

The stereo system is built in, provides good quality reproduction and is easy to manoeuvre as is the satnav through the touch screen menus.

Smoothly

On the move the 1.3-litre engine pulls smoothly but lacks the power to match the didn't rattle the teeth over some of our more uneven road surfaces.

What I found myself doing was using the engine to get to a certain speed and then using the great handling to maintain it round comers.

smoothly but lacks the power to match the looks.

That said, it is the ecoflex engine, which means that you can fill it up and forget about it for days before you notice that the engine has used any fuel.

The gearbox is easy to use and matches the engine power perfectly so I did not need keep changing gear to keep money you have spent may not buy you a fire-breathing engine, (remember the insurance) but, it does get you a fantastic handling car which will have you smilling all day.

Throwing it into bends it behaved impeccably, and surprised a few cars that were following me, with a completely solid feel that thriftiest A1 an even more desirable proposition.

Further optimisation of the fuel system and engine management unit has reduced the CO2 output of the A1 1.6 TDI from 105g/km to 99g/km, and boosted its official combined economy figure from 70.6mpg to 74.3mpg.
As before, the achievement of these outstanding figures is aided by endine start-stop and energy by engine start-stop and energy recuperation systems. The performance delivered by the turbo charged and directly injected common rail unit also remains as keen as ever.

The A1 1.6 TDI with five-speed manual transmission sprints from rest to 62mph in 10.5 seconds rest to 62mph in 10.5 seconds, and, where conditions allow, can reach a top speed of 118mph.

The advantage held by the revised 1.6 TDI won't only be felt at the filling station.

With CO2 dipping below the 100g/km mark it is exempt from the London congestion charge, and also from Vehicle Excise Duty (VED) from year 2 onwards as the duty bandings currently stand.

The majority of A1 models, including the 1.6 TDI, are already duty-free in the first year of ownership.

The A1 1.6 TDI with 99g output can be ordered in all three UK A1 trim levels – SE, Sport and S line. Features common to all include Features common to all include alloy wheels, remote central locking, air conditioning, electric front windows and mirrors and a six-speaker single CD audio system with auxiliary iPod connection linked to a 6.5-inch retractable display. This efficiency standard bearer is far from the exception to the rule for Audi.

The Vorsprung durch Technik brand offers an exceptional range of models that champion the cause, the most notable being the three-door A3 1.6 TDI.

cause, the most notable being the three-door A3 1.6 TDI.

This can also offer 99g/km and 74.3mpg capability, the A4 TDI Saloon with 120g/km and 61.4mpg, the new A6 2.0 TDI saloon with 129g/km and 57.6mpg and the TT TDI quattro with 53.3mpg and 139g/km.

Later in 2011, another highlight will be launched in the shape of the front-wheel-drive A8 3.0 TDI luxury saloon, combining 204PS with the potential to cover up to 47.1mpg while emitting just 159g/km of CO2.

The latest A1 is even better gram for gram. Revisions to the Audi A1 1.6 TDI have reduced the fuel consumption of the already frugal premium sub-compact hatchback to up to 74.3mpg, and dropped its CO2 output to a VED and London congestion charge-cancelling 99g/km. congestion charge-cancelling 99g/km. home? Sounds like a luxury and not a cheap way of finding a place for a a cheap way of finding a place for a break each year.

Let's put it another way: what about a caravan and car for less than the price of an average family holiday? Yes, caravans do tend to incur the wrath of road users – but what's it like to actually use one yourself?
As an alternative to the more conventional excursion to a Spanish resort they can be a fun way to spend time with the family.

After taking the plunce or the specific or a break each of the specific or the specific or a contract of the specific or a contract or the specific or a contract or the specific or a contract or the specific or tional excursion to a Spanish resort they can be a fun way to spend time with the family.

After taking the plunge and spending a relatively modest £3,000 on a slightly ageing Swift 4-berth caravan and a sturdy Mercedes £320 Estate, there was nothing to do but jump in with both feet.

Admittedly, it could never compare with five-star luxury and hot-and-cold room service, but escaping from the fast-paced modern world is one of the key appeals.

Be warned: those with driving licences issued after 1997 are restricted to a maximum authorised towing mass of 3,500kg; before that date and the weight limit is increased to 8,250kg, which is plenty to tow the biggest of outfits.

After the initial purchase of the Mercedes and the caravan – a 13-year-old Swift Danette Diamond for £1,700 – and apart from insuring the two, there was little left to buy.

Joining the Caravan Club cost a reasonable £40, giving access to all its UK and European sites and therefore a multitude of choice.

The Caravan Club estimates that it costs on average £23 per night in high season to stay on one of its many sites.

And it also dispels the myths of a windswept field full of caravans: shops, very clean washrooms and loos, laundry rooms, pubs, restaurants are common and, in some cases, a swimming pool. What's more, with the caravan in situ, surrounding attractions were a short because.

surrounding attractions were a size.

Nop away.

Staying local for the maiden voyage was a sensible first step, but once becoming confident with towing (or, to be more truthful, reversing the outfit into a space), travelling further afield held no force.

After a year of ownership, taking in Denmark, Germany, Holland and France, the whole outfit was sold as we bought them, through an online auction

After tallying the original purchase price and then subtracting the selling price, all it cost was £100, or just under £2 per week.

Jaguar XF excels on its one-tank run to Munich

THE new XF, equipped with a 2.2-litre four-cylinder engine, promises to be the most effi-cient Jaguar yet produced.

And to prove it, an example has just completed an epic journey from the factory which it was created at Castle Bromwich Birmingham, to Munich – a distance of 816-miles – on a single tank of diesel.

miles – on a single tank of diesel. Driven by David Madgwick, an independ-ent tester, accompanied by navigator Alexander Madgwick, the scrupulously stan-dard XF passed through four countries taking in a mix of winding country roads, motorways and dense urban traffic.

The XF, with just over 3,000-miles on the clock at the point of departure, consumed just 64-litres of fuel to average a remarkable 57 mpg.

On-hand to meet the car on its arrival in Munich was Andy Whyman, Chief Programme Engineer for the XF, who commented: "The entire development team is very proud of what the new XF 2.2 has achieved - this not only proves the efficiency of the new model but underlines that per#### formance and economy can be combined. Accelerate

Despite its keen focus on economy the XF 2.2 produces 190 PS and 332 lbs ft of torque, to allow the XF to accelerate from rest to 62mph in just 8.5-seconds before reaching a top speed of 140mph. The XF 2.2 emits just 149 g/km of CO2.

Further improving efficiency, the new 2.2-litre engine is linked to a new eight-speed ZF automatic gearbox and an innovative Stop-Start system – marking the first time such a device has been fitted to a Jaquar.

Set to be launched this September, the new XF 2.2 forms part of the new 2012 model new 7.2.2 forms part of the new 2012 moder range. Benefitting from a fresh new look, upgraded interiors and equipment as well as improvements in efficiency and refinement, the latest generation XF looks set to build upon the achievements of the model it replaces.

CHRONICLE MOTORING Toyota now shipping out the Avensis from plant in Derbyshire to Japan

exclusively at Toyota's UK factory in Burnaston, Derbyshire, is to be exported - to Japan.

The launch of the third-generation Avensis in Toyota's "home" market later this year further strengthens the performance of the UK plant, which already ships the model to 47 countries worldwide.

model to 47 countries word/wide.
The news has been welcomed by the Government as an endorsement of British manufacturing skills and quality.
Business Secretary Vince Cable said:
"Toyota exports 85 per cent of the car and engines it makes at its UK plants in Burnaston and Deeside.
"Today's news that it will now export its Avensis model to Japan is a tribute to the skills of the workforce, the efficiency of the plants and the quality of its products.

ucts. "I was delighted to meet Fujio Cho, Chairman of Toyota when I visited Japan recently and I highlighted the importance of manufacturing in the UK."

Products

Toyota Motor Manufacturing (UK) Ltd Managing Director Katsunori Kojima said: "We are very proud that the Avensis has been selected for export to Japan. This is yet another vote of confi-dence for the factory and the high quality of our products."

Demand for European styling and engineering from Japanese customers has prompted Toyota's decision to introduce Avensis to the home market. The Tourer estate car versions will be offered, powered by a 2.0-litre petrol engine with Multidrive S continuously variable transmission (CVT) for fuel efficient, low emissions performance. The cars will be shipped from the UK at a rate of 750 vehicles a month with production commencing in July. The Toyota Avensis was introduced in 1997. By the end of 2010, more than 1.8 million Avensis vehicles had been built—all at Burnaston — for sale in the UK, Europe and other markets worldwide.

Performance

Together with Toyota's other European production centres, the UK factory has succeeded in returning quickly to the production levels and operating hours that were in place prior to the Japan earthquake and tsunami in March

Japan earthquake and tsunami in March.

The additional exports to Japan will reinforce its performance and its position as one of Toyota's most efficient tion as one or loyota's most efficient and advanced factories. The factory also builds Auris hatch-back models and has the distinction of being the first factory in Europe to mass produce a full hybrid model, the Auris Hybrid. To date Toyota has invested over £1.85 billion in its UK manufacturing operations since being established in 1992

Mixed team are national champions once more

CANNOCK have been crowned England Hockey Mixed Cup champions for the second time in four years.

The Hatherton outfit lifted the trophy after the semi-finals and final of the after the semi-finals and final of the competition, which started in February, were held over one weekend in Sheffield. Two goals from Ellie Watton and one by Dave Harris earned Cannock a last-four success over Norfolk side Harleston Magpies and set up a final against Horsham, who swept aside Andover 8-1. In an entertaining final, Harris fired home from a penalty corner and doubled Cannock's advantage from a penalty corner before Horsham missed a penalty flick seconds before full-time.

CANNOCK XI 1 SUTTON ROYALS XI 3

CANNOCK XI 1 SUTTON ROYALS XI 3
Cannock travelled to Birmingham to play Sutton Royals in the summer league.
Playing a tight and compact formation Cannock set out to frustrate their opponents which they did successfully, cutting the home side's chances down while showing some brief attacking intent. As the half progressed Cannock got a foot in the game and a great reverse stick cross from youngster Louie Morris was converted by Chris Darnley to put Cannock ahead for the first time this summer.

With some small changes at half-time cannock set out to compete their first victory but it all went terribly wrong. With shape and formation all over place Sutton picked off the visitors managing to score three goals in the process and left Cannock with nothing. Meanwhile Cannock HC's other Summer league team continue to enjoy success with there fifth successive victory this week with a 4-2 win over Wake Green Pan-there fifth successive victory this week with a 4-2 win over Wake Green Panthers.

CHASE PARK XI 1 WEDNESBURY XI 1

As Chase Park entered their last game before the return fixtures started a good performance and result was needed.

From the start the home side took the game to the visitors and dominated proceedings with some excellent pass and move play along with some fine individual skills and runs where possible, this made for huge frustration on the faces of the Wednesbury players.

As has been the situation throughout the summer season Chase Park used their development players plus a few more experienced players but the combination of the two were more than a match for the vising team. By half time all that was missing was the goal that the passages of play deserved. Wednesbury had to make do with an occasional foray into the Chase Park D but on the occasion they did manage to get a shot on goal, Paul Parker was not going to be beaten.

After a few words at half time from As has been the situation throughout the summer season Chase Park used their development players plus a few more experienced players but the combination of the two were more than a match for the vising team. By half time all that was missing was the goal that the passages of play deserved. Wednesbury had to make do with an occasional foray into the Chase Park D but on the occasion they did manage to get a shot on goal, Paul Parker was not going to be teaten.

14th tournament successful again

WYRLEY Juniors held its 14th annual tournament last weekend, when more than 160 teams took part in the area's largest annual event in the sporting calendar.

More than 7,000 people attended – including in excess of 1,500 players – from six-year-old boys and girls through to 16-year-old boys. Teams took part from Leicestershire, Shropshire, Cheshire, Warrickshire, Worcestershire as well as the West Midlands and Staffordshire. For the first time the club included a non competitive section for Under 8s Girls to support Staffordshire FA's diversity programme, in addition to five other girls' age groups.

Keith Hardy, chairman of Wyrley Juniors FC said. "The event is one of the largest tournaments in the Midland and in its 14th year, with the format replicated by other clubs. There were winners from 13 different clubs in the competitions with the Under 7s cated by other clubs. There were winners from 13 different clubs in the competitions with the Under 7s and Under 8s teams enjoying the opportunity to play organised football."

He added: "An army of club volunteers ensured the event was again extremely successful and we now start the planning for next year when the dates will be the usual third weekend in June."

In the Burntwood Dragons 2011 tournament, Norton Canes defeated the terrible weather, as well as their opponents, to lift the trophy.

They won every one of their games, beating Wolverhampton's Parkfields in the final.

A club spokesman said: "Even though weather conditions were poor all teams who took park did not allow this to put a dampener on the day, with thanks going to the hosts of the competition."

Hawkins started brightly enough with an opening stand of 64 between Moshin Raza (22) and Liam Brazier (38), but thereafter Penkridge's superior quality shone through as Hawkins collapsed in domino style. Richard James atoned for his batting with a superb bowling display removing the first five Hawkins battsmen, finishing with figures of 6-24, and he was ably supported with a miserly spell from the other end by Jon Price (2-19 from 14 overs) as Hawkins were skittled for just 106 in the 45th over.

CANNOCK U15S (112-3)
BEAT HIMLEY (105-7) BY SEVEN RUNS Cannock progressed to the area final of the national knockout with a narrow victory over Himley. After winning the toss and choosing to bat first Cannock found it sidfficult to score thanks to some accurate bowling on a wet pitch.

Cannock's safety first approach saw them reach 38-2 after 13 overs. With wickets in hand Cannock accelerated,led by Connor Shingler who, after scoring just two from his first 14 balls needed just 22 more deliveries to reach an excellent 54 not out to see the Cannock innings close on a competitive 112-3.
The Himley reply started badly when Poulson was run out in the first over but a half century stand saw the visitors handly placed at 58-1 from 12 overs. With the game in the balance, Shingler was bought into the attack and a spell of 3-15 put Cannock in charge and when the Himley innings closed Cannock returned to league action and recorded a resounding 103 run victory against Rugeley.

After winning the toss and electing to bat, Cannock lost an early wicket but then runs came freely and a century stand by Dan Wood (53 retired) and Connor Shingler (56 retired) ensured a big total.

The Rugeley innings faltered from the start when Dan Bowker (1-9) struck in the first over. Wickets continued to fall steadily and when the final wicket fell after 16 overs the Rugeley score had reached just 38 with Jack Twigger returning figures of 3-0 and Kieron Squire 2-5.

The 20-year-old was selected for the relay team, joining a 40-strong British contingent including double Olympic champion Rebecca Adlington.

The squad will attend a camp in Osaka, Japan, before arriving in Shanghai for the July 16-31 event.

Host nation China, the USA and Australia are expected to present the main challenge to Great Britain.

Wilkins won freestyle silver in this week's ASA national championships in Sheffield. But it was her fourth place in the 100m final which bagged her place in the relay team.

"I received a letter from British Swimming confirming I'd been placed on the long list for London 2012," said Wilkins. "But to gain selection into this year's GB world team can only go towards my development and progression."

Wilkins only heard about her selection when she gave a talk to the children at her old primary school in Heath Hayes.
"I had many missed calls, as my coach was trying to contact me to give me the good news," she said.
She also attended Cardinal Griffin FC High School and was with Phoenix Swimming Club before joining Chase.
The swimmer, who doesn't receive any financial support from her governing body, is now seeking sponsors in the lead-up to the Olympics.
"She has worked extremely hard for this opportunity and deserves it," said mum Kim.
"She trains morning and evening for 20 hours a week plus weight training and running and she's studying for a university degree."
